Department of Food and Nutritional Sciences IFT Student Chapter Awarded Travel Grant from The Institute of Food Technologists

The Institute of Food Technologists (IFT), which is a leading advocate for the science of food professionals, extends heartfelt gratitude to all participants for their invaluable contributions to our Fall membership drive. Your dedicated efforts in spreading awareness about the advantages of IFT and IFTSA membership have played a pivotal role in expanding our community and nurturing the next generation of food science professionals.

The Fall membership drive has concluded, marking a significant milestone in our ongoing mission to foster excellence in the field of food science. Tuskegee University IFT Student Chapter has been instrumental in our campaign's success, and we are thrilled to announce this chapter as one of the recipients of the $1000 travel grant from IFT. The recipients have demonstrated outstanding commitment to our cause, and we are delighted to assist them in furthering their educational initiatives.

The travel grant will serve as a valuable resource for our food science students, enabling them to participate in essential events, conferences, and educational opportunities related to the science of food. Other Institutions receiving travel grants are: Instituto Tecnológico de Monterrey Campus Querétaro, Michigan State University, Oregon State University, and University of Delaware
