Tuskegee University History

Marked by more than a century of tradition since its founding through the efforts of former slave Lewis Adams and former slave owner George W. Campbell, Tuskegee University today is known for being among the nation’s premier historically black colleges and universities (HBCUs) — and for its openness to all. Its mission remains service to people, not merely education for its own sake. Stressing the need to educate the whole person, that is, the hand and the heart as well as the mind, founding principal Booker T. Washington’s new school was soon acclaimed — first by Alabama and then by the nation — for the soundness and vigor of its educational programs and principles.

Founded as the Tuskegee Normal School for Colored Teachers through the passage of Alabama House Bill 165 on July 4, 1881, Tuskegee University traces its modest beginnings to a one-room shanty located near Butler’s Chapel AME Zion Church. Under Washington’s leadership, however, the Tuskegee Normal and Industrial Institute (as of 1893) soon rose to national prominence. A highly skilled organizer and fundraiser who counseled U.S. presidents, Washington was a strong advocate of black farmers and businesses. Student enrollment was not limited to rural Macon County and the South, but was global in composition. Every student’s educational experience combined vocational classes with coursework toward general diplomas, which included mathematics, English and history. To that end, Washington recruited the best and brightest available within the black community, including famed researcher George Washington Carver and architect Robert R. Taylor.

Tuskegee’s prominence as a black school of higher learning continued after Washington’s passing in 1915. President Robert R. Moton actively solicited for modern buildings and equipment to teach the trades, more comfortable faculty and student housing, and enlarged and improved recreational, health and academic facilities. By 1927, his efforts had helped to elevate Tuskegee’s high school-level academics to full four-year college status with bachelor degrees in agriculture, home economics, mechanical industries and education. In addition, it donated land in 1923 for the Tuskegee Veteran’s Administration Hospital — the first and only one staffed by black professionals. He continued institutional relationships with financiers such as Julius Rosenwald, which in turn created programs for underprivileged portions of society and the education of blacks.

Tuskegee would establish itself as a leader in veterinary medicine education in 1944 when President Frederick D. Patterson founded the Tuskegee Institute (as of 1937) School of Veterinary Medicine. In the same year, he helped co-found the United Negro College Fund, which continues today to advocate on behalf of and provide financial support for a consortium of HBCUs — Tuskegee among them.

During the 1940s, although the rest of the world was embroiled in war, Tuskegee continued to better opportunities for blacks nationwide. The Infantile Paralysis Center, which opened on Jan. 15, 1941, as part of Tuskegee University's John A. Andrew Memorial Hospital, treated and served African-American patients (especially for polio) from the southeastern states, as well as Alabama patients with other orthopedic conditions. Further acclaim resulted from the university’s Civilian Pilot Training Program (which began in 1939) that eventually led to the formation of the 99th Fighter Squadron of Tuskegee Airmen in June 1941.

The organization of the College of Arts and Sciences, the elimination of several vocational programs, and the development of engineering programs marked the tenure of fourth president, Dr. Luther H. Foster. His tenure also included the turbulent years of the Civil Rights Movement, during which time the university maintained an attitude of open dialogue by allowing a variety of controversial speakers — such as Martin Luther King Jr., Malcolm X, Stokely Carmichael, Julian Bond and Alex Haley — to visit campus. In 1960, Arts and Sciences Dean Charles Gomillion filed a lawsuit leading to the groundbreaking Supreme Court case Gomillion vs. Lightfoot concerning Tuskegee’s black citizens who had been illegally gerrymandered out of their right to vote. Tragically, on Jan. 3, 1966, Tuskegee freshman Samuel Younge Jr. became the first black college student killed as a result of his involvement in the civil rights movement. The university’s significance in our nation’s history has twice been celebrated by the U.S. Department of the Interior’s National Parks Service: first, in 1966, when it became the first HBCU designated as a Registered National Historic Landmark; and again in 1974, when it became the nation’s only HBCU designated as a National Historic Site.

Through fifth president Dr. Benjamin F. Payton’s participation on the Tuskegee Syphilis Study Legacy Committee, the university established the National Center for Bioethics in Research and Health Care as part of the government’s apology for its participation in the “U.S. Public Health Service Study on Syphilis” conducted at Tuskegee from 1932 to 1972. Payton’s commitment to education was further exemplified when, in 1985, Tuskegee attained university status and began offering its first doctoral programs in integrative biosciences, materials science and engineering.

The decade following Payton’s presidency — under the leadership of presidents Gilbert L. Rochon and Brian L. Johnson — marked a greater emphasis on Tuskegee’s research capacity and physical campus through the construction of new education, science and residential halls, as well as improvements to existing facilities. Each also contributed significantly to broader integration of arts and cultural programs in the growing STEAM (science, technology, engineering, arts and mathematics) movement throughout the U.S.

On July 1, 2018, Tuskegee University marked a new leadership milestone as Dr. Lily D. McNair began her tenure as its eighth and first female — president in 137 years. Currently, Tuskegee University is under the leadership of its ninth and second female president, Dr. Charlotte P. Morris, who began her tenure on August 1, 2021.

Charlotte P. Morris, Ph.D.
President

Dr. Charlotte P. Morris began her current tenure as Tuskegee University’s 9th president on August 1, 2021. Her 30-plus-year tenure at Tuskegee has included numerous leadership and faculty appointments at the college and university levels. Her most recent prior appointment on November 1, 2020, as interim president was her third appointment to the university’s top post — the first having been in 2010 following the retirement of President Benjamin F. Payton.

Morris began her tenure at Tuskegee University in 1984 as a faculty member of the now Andrew F. Brimmer College of Business and Information Science. In 1987, she began serving as executive associate/chief of staff to the university president and secretary to the university’s Board of Trustees — duties she faithfully performed for 23 years. During the last eight years in that position, she also served as the director of the university’s Title III program and as chair of the university’s Convocations and Special Events Committee. After concluding her first appointment as interim president, Morris returned to the Brimmer College, where she served as associate dean and professor of management — until appointed as the college’s interim dean in 2016 upon the retirement of Dean Tejinder Sara.

Morris’ early career experience includes teaching appointments at Trenholm State Community College and Kansas State University. Other higher education experience includes serving as program associate for planning, management, and evaluation at Mississippi Valley State University. In 2011, she was appointed by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges as a visiting peer review team member. She is also a member of the Board of Trustees of the Southern Education Foundation and the Alabama School of Cyber Technology and Engineering.

A native of Kosciusko, Mississippi, Morris completed a bachelor’s degree in business education at Jackson State University, a master’s degree in business administration and management at Delta State University, and a Ph.D. degree in education and business management from Kansas State University. She has completed additional graduate-level coursework at the Harvard University Graduate School of Education’s Institute for Educational Management, higher education administration coursework at Southern Illinois University-Carbondale, and summer institutes in curriculum development in higher education.

A resident of Montgomery, Alabama, since 1983, Morris is a Golden Life Member of the Montgomery Alumnae Chapter of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc., a member and former president of the Agnes J. Lewis Women’s Club, and a member of the Lilly Missionary Baptist Church, where she serves on the usher board, as a Sunday School teacher, and as a member of the missions’ circle. She also holds membership in the Tuskegee Chapter of The Links, Inc. Additionally, she holds/has held membership in the Society for Human Resources Management (SHRM), Beta Gamma Sigma National Honor Society in Business, the Golden Key National Honor Society, the National Council of Negro Women, and the American Council on Education.

Among Morris’ accolades are membership in Leadership Montgomery’s Class XXIX, Tuskegee University’s Distinguished Administrative Staff Achievement Award, Bush Foundation Fellow, Service Award from the Charles Stewart Mott Foundation, and inclusion in the 1992 edition of Who’s Who Worldwide. Upon completion of undergraduate studies, she received the “I Dare You” Award for leadership qualities.

Morris was married to the late Dr. William R. Morris and is the parent of one adult son.

Academic Heraldry

In a tradition passed down from the Middle Ages, academic regalia worn during commencements symbolize the essence of educational pageantry. Academic dress originated during the 12th and 13th centuries with the establishment of European universities. By the second half of the 14th century, England began defining academic dress.

The long gowns and hoods may have been necessary for warmth in medieval buildings. As the statutes evolved, the traditional English costumes were incorporated into American colleges and universities in the 19th century. Rapid growth of those institutions in the United States led to a standardized assignment of colors for the various fields of learning.

Representatives of major institutions formed an intercollegiate commission to establish a suitable academic code of dress. The commission met at Columbia University in 1895 and adopted the Intercollegiate Code, which regulates the cut, style, colors and materials for each part of the academic costume to be used for bachelor’s, master’s and doctoral levels. The code was revised in 1932 by the American Council on Education and again by a committee appointed by ACE in 1959. The code was updated most recently in 1986.

Gowns
Materials, trimmings and sleeves of gowns vary by discipline. Black is the recommended color. Gowns for bachelor’s or master’s degrees are untrimmed. The sleeves of the bachelor’s degree gown, which is always worn closed, are pointed. The master’s degree gown has oblong sleeves that are open at the wrist. The doctoral degree gown features velvet facing down the front and three bars of velvet across the bell-shaped sleeves. The velvet trimmings may be black or the color distinctive of the degree’s discipline. Master’s and doctoral gowns may be worn open or closed.

Hoods
As the academic costume’s most distinctive feature, hoods must be black and made of the same material as the gown. The hood identifies both the degree level and the institution conferring the degree. The length of the hood worn for the bachelor’s degree must be three feet; for the master’s degree, three and one-half feet; and for the doctoral degree, which may have panels at the sides, four feet. Lined with the official colors of the college or university conferring the degree, only the highest degree is represented on the hood. The color of the velvet edging indicates the subject to which the degree pertains and measures three inches for the master’s degree and five inches for the doctoral degree.

Cap
The square black mortarboard is recommended, and the material may be cotton poplin, broadcloth, rayon or silk to match the gown. Doctoral degree caps may be velvet with gold tassels. Tassels, which should be black or the color appropriate to the subject, should be fastened to the middle point of the top of the cap only and lie as it will.

About the Tuskegee National Alumni Association

Founded in 1905, the Tuskegee National Alumni Association has a diverse and rich history of bringing Tuskegee University alumni together to support the institution, its students and each other. TNAA provides its members with access to a vast network of professionals and offers alumni endless opportunities to connect, build relationships, and participate in and continue to learn from the incredible Tuskegee community.

Membership in the association is available to all alumni and former students of Tuskegee University, as well as their relatives and spouses, and current and former members of the university faculty and staff. Membership levels allow individuals to join regionally located clubs, one of TNAA's seven affiliated professional alumni organizations, or as members-at-large.

Our Mission

To enrich the lives of alumni and involve them in Tuskegee’s future.

ALUMNI OATH

We, the graduates of Tuskegee University, are conscious of our obligations to be both faithful followers and dependable leaders. Joining the thousands of Tuskegee Alumni, we commit ourselves to be worthy sons and daughters of our Alma Mater; to realize in ourselves high standards of integrity and competence; to fulfill in ourselves her tradition of unselfish service to mankind; to give liberally of our time, talents and financial support to assure her continued viability; and in the near and distant future, we will meet life’s challenges with courage and dignity.
“The Tuskegee Song”

Tuskegee, thou pride of the swift growing South
   We pay thee our homage today
For the worth of thy teaching, the joy of thy care;
   And the good we have known ’neath thy sway.
Oh, long-striving mother of diligent sons
And of daughters whose strength is their pride,
We will love thee forever and ever shall walk
   Thro’ the oncoming years at thy side.

Thy Hand we have held up the difficult steeps,
   When painful and slow was the pace,
And onward and upward we’ve labored with thee
   For the glory of God and our race.
The fields smile to greet us, the forests are glad,
   The ring of the anvil and hoe
Have a music as thrilling and sweet as a harp
Which thou taught us to hear and to know.

Oh, mother Tuskegee, thou shinest today
   As a gem in the fairest of lands;
Thou gavest the Heav’n-blessed power to see
   The worth of our minds and our hands.
We thank thee, we bless thee, we pray for thee years
   Imploring with grateful accord,
Full fruit for thy striving, time longer to strive,
   Sweet love and true labor’s reward.

by Paul Laurence Dunbar
